

Unum's group voluntary disability insurance provides a solid base of income protection coverage combined with valuable resources for any employee population. Group voluntary disability insurance can be purchased as a short-term plan or a long-term plan.

Why Group Voluntary Disability?

Working without a net:

More than three-quarters (77%) of workers think that missing work for three months because of injury or illness would create a financial hardship, while half think it would cause a "great hardship."

Consumer Federation of America and Unum, "Employee Knowledge and Attitudes about Employer-Provided Disability Insurance" (2012). The most recent source of its kind.

Nearly all households (90%) say they would suffer financial hardship if they were disabled and unable to work for a year.

Disabilities not covered by workers' compensation:

Most injuries are not work-related, and therefore not covered by workers' compensation.

National Safety Council, "Injury Facts" (2015).

Definition of Disability

The definition of disability is the residual definition, and it is outlined as follows:

A participant is disabled when it is determined that:

- He or she is limited from performing the material and substantial duties of their regular occupation due to their sickness or injury; and
- He or she has a 20% or more loss in weekly earnings due to the same sickness or injury.

The participant must be under the regular care of a physician in order to be considered disabled.

Requirements to participate in Unum's Group Voluntary Disability Plan

- 20% of a local association's membership must enroll in the disability plan in order for coverage to become effective.
- Local association decides on elimination period and benefit offerings prior to obtaining a quote.
- All members of a local association will receive a customized enrollment kit and elect to choose or refuse coverage.
- Local association will need to provide census information, including all members' date of hire, date of birth, gender, salary and Social Security number if possible.
- Local association will distribute the kits and be responsible for retrieving and returning to Unum for review.
- Individual coverage can only be paid for through payroll deduction through NYSUT Member Benefits, unless the district wishes to participate and administer the plan.
- Once Unum determines the 20% threshold has been satisfied, coverage will go into effect.

In order to start this process, local associations are encouraged to contact their NYSUT Member Benefits representative. The representative will discuss the process and refer the local association to the appropriate Unum representative.
